- Vehicles: Sasria's special risk insurance cover will protect your personal vehicle, including trailers, against loss or damage caused in the event of a strike, riot, civil commotion, public disorder or terrorism.

Businesses

Municipalities

Sasria's special risk cover extends to municipalities for their municipal assets. Mayors and councillors have a cover of up to a limit of R1.5 million for houses, and 30% of that is for the household contents.

Tertiary Institutions

The special risk insurance cover from Sasria covers all South African tertiary institutions like universities, colleges (Special and TVET), whether the institution is public or private. All tertiary institutions that offer specific capacities of higher learning or further education can obtain Sasria's special risk insurance cover for any of their items.

Material Damage

The material damage cover will cover your assets against losses or damages of all domestic and commercial property, equipment, containers, aviation hull, and agricultural-related such as harvest and livestock. These would have to be losses or damages caused by riots, strikes, public disorder, civil commotion and terrorism, which we call perils. It is important to note that not all facets of material damage are covered, which is why Sasria has an option of taking extensions on this cover.

- Extensions: Material damage cover can be extended to include optional extensions at an additional premium. Some of these are escalation and inflation, claims preparation costs and security costs. Furthermore, if the underlying insurer has an extension on their cover, it does not mean one automatically has the same extension with Sasria.

Small Businesses

Entrepreneurs who own small businesses can have their assets protected against strikes, riots, protests, public disorder and terrorism. This cover applies to small businesses which have a total value of assets of up to R2 million.

Money

In the case of your business handling money and you experience a loss or damage of cash and cheques due to exposure to a strike, riot or protest, then the money cover is for you. This cover follows the limits of the underlying policy, including the crossed cheque limitation and any claims preparation costs clause.
